

The Lamentations, Second Stasis

Verses 8 - 14

Voice

8. Your all blame - less mo - the looked on help - less - ly be - hold - ing
 9. At Your pa - ssion, O Word, there was nei - ther form nor
 10. O Christ my Sa - vior, Ni - co - de - mus joined with Joseph in em
 11. To You, O Word, Who are tru - ly the spice whose
 12. O Word of God, when Your side was pierced, then like a
 13. O e - ter - nal - God, co - e - ter - nal Word and Ho - ly
 14. O pure an blame - less one, Vir - gin - Mo - ther who gave birth to
 1. It is pro - per an - gust life - be - stow - ing Lord, to glo - ri

Vo. ⁵

Your death O Christ. Bit - ter tears flow in her eyes and she cried out Do not lin - ger beau - ty left in You; and yet when You use You shone with splen - did light - ing all man bal - ming You, and they bur - ied You how won - drous to tel - ly - ing, "Look, O sa - vor ne - ver fades, the wo - me - name to a - noint You a dead pel - i can You re - stored Your chil - dren to life and poured forth Spi - rit, in Your right - eous - ness give Your peo - ple peace and de - li - ver end - less Life, si - lence the de - sions which plague the Church en - ve - lop fy You Who ex - ten - ded Your hand u - pon the cross - ver - com - ing

Vo. ¹⁰

there a - mong the dead, O Life."
 kind in Your di - vi - ni - ty's rays.
 earth, and trem - ble at the sight.
 man, O Liv - ing One.
 living wa - ters for them.
 them from all their e - ne - mies.
 her with peace in Your right - eous - ness.
 our ad - ver - sa - ry's might.